Democracy and Human Rights in Putin’s Russia
A Workshop for Educators
Friday, May 10 2013

Sponsored by the Outreach Program at the Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies, Harvard University

8:30—9:15   Welcome and Introductions
Cris Martin
Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies

Timothy Colton
Professor of Government, Harvard University

10:45—11:00  Break

11:00—12:30  Lecture: “The Development of Democracy under Russian President Vladimir Putin”
Robyn Angley
Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies, Harvard University

12:30—1:15    Lunch

Joshua Rubenstein
Independent Scholar

2:45—4:00   Pedagogy: Using Film and Curricular Resources to Explore Human Rights Issues in the High School Classroom
Rebekah Judson and Anna Mudd
Outreach staff, Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies, Harvard University

4:00—4:30   Evaluations

Cris Martin, Outreach Director
Anna Mudd, Digital and Curricular Projects Coordinator
Rebekah Judson, Program Assistant davisoutreach@fas.harvard.edu daviscenter.fas.harvard.edu/outreach